WRITE to your Congressman and Senators urging passage of "H. R. 2445." It would regulate the sale of viruses, serums, toxins and similar products, and thus discourage pirates that sell fraudulent "cures."

The government protects cows and pigs from fake remedies, but when human beings are concerned the government board must license any worthless so-called "serum" or "vaccine" as long as it is put up in clean packaging.

THE NEW law, introduced by Mr. Rathbone in the House and Dr. Copeland in the Senate, would compel those selling remedies to state "in plain, prominent print" whether or not the government Board of Licenses approve the alleged remedy.

DR. C. H. LEVERMORE, who won Mr. Bok's $50,000 League of Nations prize, says he is not certain what he would do if nominated for President by the Republicans. He says that the Senate MUST adopt his plan for world peace. "MUST" is a big word.

SPEAKING of that Presidential nomination, would it be fair for Dr. Levermore to take it since Mr. Bok paid the freight on that expedition? Any by-product such as a Presidential nomination should go to him. The fact that Mr. Bok wants him in the United States needs interference. With a League of Nations telling the United States what to do, that part of the Constitution might be changed, in order to mix up the nations thoroughly and promote brotherhood. It might even be decided that only people born OUTSIDE of the United States would be eligible for the Presidency.

MR. W. S. FOSTER, addressing 15,000 New York Madison Square Garden, advises his friends to join the party of Lenin and further the world revolution in the United States.

Why not wait a while and see how the revolution in Russia comes out. Even a little thing like a revolution ought to be first considered and then begun rather carefully. And the people should be consulted before they hand a revolution to them.

Bullet Kills Doctor

DEATH OF PHYSICIAN IS PROBED

Mystery in Death of Brooklyn Specialist Revealed as Estate Is Settled

Adjustment of the $25,000 estate of Dr. Cornelius J. Dacey, World War veteran and prominent specialist of Boston and Brooklyn, has brought to light for the first time that he died from a bullet in the brain, and that the exact manner in which he met his death has never been officially determined.

"Death due to pistol shot in brain. Manner unknown."

That is the significant entry on the death certificate at City Hall. No public report was ever made of the shooting by the police.

City Hospital authorities said today that the case was a "dead-end case" and that all records concerning it had been turned over to the district attorney's office.

The district attorney's office said no such papers were in their files except a copy of a permit for an autopsy. No report of the outcome of the autopsy, so medical examiner's report and no police report were found.

Apparently the death of Dr. Dacey, hailed whatever official probe was under way, indicating possible suicide, though records in the city registry do not attempt to pronounce either case of suicide or homicide.

AUTOPSY PERFORMED.
Dr. Dacey's older brother, John Frederick Dacey, with whom he had been living at No. 11 Wellesley Park, Dorchester, died September 24, four days before the doctor was found by the housekeeper mortally wounded in his room at the top of the single house.

Dr. Dacey was removed to City Hospital at night in his automobile (No. 28, the day after his brother's funeral) and lingered until Oct. 4. Heroic efforts were made to save his life as he had been formerly a member of the Boston City Hospital staff, attached to the commission.

Woman Dead, Three Hurt in Gun Battle in the South

New Orleans, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Roland Clark, candidate for Mayor of Palmerton, La., in a recent primary, was killed; three Meyer of the opposing faction was probably fatally wounded; and Mrs. Clark's son and daughter were wounded in a gun battle today on the streets of Palmerton.

A version of the shooting which reached here from Opelousas, La., near Palmerton, was that Mrs. Clark, accompanied by her daughter, met Meyer on the street and accused him of having brought a relative from Texas to vote for her opponent. Before this vote was cast, it was charged, the halting had resulted in a tie. After a brief exchange of words the firing began.

19 PUPLS POISONED BY SERUM

The fact that the Schick anti-diphtheria serum was frozen is believed by medical authorities to be responsible for the illness of nineteen of the students of the Concord Academy, following their inoculation.

Three days after the serum was administered, last Tuesday, students began complaining of sore eyes. Later they suffered from nausea.

An investigation by the State health authorities, as well as the authorities of the school, resulted in the discovery that the anti-diphtheria serum administered to the students had been frozen and that this changed the nature of the serum to such a degree that it caused the illness.

Despite the illness of the Concord students, the work of inoculating the students of the Boston public schools with the Schick serum will be started tomorrow.

Dr. John J. Connelley, director of the bureau of communicable diseases of the Boston Department of Health, has had the plans for inoculating Continued on Page 6, Column 5.

Narrow Gauge Ferry Smashes Into Schooner; Women in Terror

The fishing schooner Morning Star, just out of dry dock in East Boston, was rammed by the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn ferryboat Newtown in Boston Harbor today.

The schooner's slinging was torn away and thirty feet of her starboard rail splintered.

Part of the accident was laid at the door of the schooner's crew by the commander of the ferry, Captain Charles J. Blomquist. He was at the wheel as the ferry approached the East Boston slip carrying about 200 passengers, among them women members of a church organization journeying to Revere for a convention.

WILSON MEMORIAL IN TEXAS

The above heroic figure of the late Woodrow Wilson has just been completed by Pompeo Cipolletti, noted New York sculptor. The bronze is nine feet high. It is one of the central characters of a war memorial for the campus of the University of Texas. The work was finished just before Mr. Wilson died.

HARDER TO OBTAIN DIVORCE IN FRANCE

Paris, Feb. 6.—French obstacles have been placed in the way of Americans seeking divorce in France by a circular just issued from the Ministry of Justice to all courts, qualified to hear divorce cases. It orders the public prosecutor's department of each court hereafter to exact from citizens of the United States who seek divorce proceedings a certificate delivered by an attorney duly accredited in the bar of the United States declaring that the applicant for divorce is entitled to a divorce under the law of the State in which he or she may live.

VETS HOIST U.S. FLAG ON GERMAN EMBASSY

Want to Show Proper Way of Honoring an American Citizen; Police Called

Washington, Feb. 6 (I.N.S.).—Refusal of the German government to put its embassy flag here at half staff in honor of Woodrow Wilson resulted in a demonstration in front of the embassy building today and the calling out of police reserves.

Just before dawn 150 taxi drivers, including many ex-servicemen, assembled at the German embassy, at Massachusetts avenue and planted a pole in the front lawn, with an American flag at half mast.

Ambassador Otto von Welldorf, and his staff first became aware of the demonstration when a pistol shot fired by some one in the crowd awakened them.

Peering from the front windows, they saw the crowd milling around in the avenue and immediately telephoned for the police.

When reserves arrived in patrol wagons and automobiles the assembled taxi drivers began singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The policemen all stood at attention and when the singing was over ordered the taxi drivers to disperse. They did so, leaving the flag, which was later removed by the police. No arrests were made.

"We intended no harm to the embassy or its officials," said one taxi driver. "We only wanted to show them how to honor a citizen of the United States properly."

Announcement was made at the embassy today that the flag would be half-staffed at 12:30 p. m. when all government departments close in accordance with the executive order of President Coolidge.

HOMAGE OF WORLD IS PAID DEAD LEADER

Simple Services Mark Passing While Guns Boom, Bells Toll and Work Stops

Washington, Feb. 6 (I.N.S.).—Booming guns and the mournful tolling of bells, symbolizing the nation's sorrow, ushered in the day upon which Woodrow Wilson, the great War President, was to be laid to his last long rest.

Twice an hour, wherever the uniform of his country is worn, the deep-throated roar of the guns spoke their tribute today to the passing of him who in the history of the country had found a million such guns in the cause of right.

The guns, the bells and the flags that flew at half-staff everywhere marked the chief outward expressions of the country's grief. And even these honors were brought by him whose last wish had been that he would be buried as a private citizen of the country to which he had rendered such notable service.

The peace that was desired by Woodrow Wilson in his turbulent life is with him today in death. Peace is carved in the stone over the doorway to the little chapel where final services will be held for him late this afternoon.

SYMBOLIC OF PEACE
The message of peace is portrayed in story and picture in his wood and stone of the chapel, and peace will be further symbolized by the unarmed service men who carry him to his crypt.

While the crowds of reverential mourners gathered this morning in the little billy street crypt, a modest home, the body of the late President was removed from its bed on which he died and laid to his last long rest.

FIRING WILSON SALUTE AT ARMY BASE

The small library where he spent most of his waking hours since his retirement from the White House, there will be held this afternoon the briefest and simplest of services. They will consume scarcely more than a few minutes. A psalm, a prayer and the reading of some extracts from a devotional book which he was wont to read daily—and that is all.

Woodrow Wilson.

There only a comparative few of the hosts that mourn for Woodrow Wilson.

Outside the cathedral, however, there will be thousands gathered to pay their last respects to Mr. Wilson. To those will be brought the prayers and the Scriptural readings within by means of radio. And even those unable to gain admittance to the scene will have the services brought to them by means of broadcast, thus for the first time in history enabling countless thousands to participate in the final obsequies of a former President.

AS HE WISHED

The national capital itself will render to Mr. Wilson all the tribute possible. At 3:30 p. m., when his body is lowered into the crypt, tolling bells will carry the message and all business throughout the city will cease for two minutes. Street cars and motor cars will halt their traffic. Pedestrians will uncover in the street, clerks in stores will adjust their labors and the whole city will stand still in his memory.

The government departments will discharge their thousands of workers at 12:30 p. m., that they may participate in the capital ceremony.

For Woodrow Wilson there will be no march down Pennsylvania avenue with the flood of memories that such a march would bring, no clatter of military, no muffled drums and draped colors, no black caissons and dirgeful bands. He did not wish it. And so he will be in death.

CORPORAL WILFRED FLETCHER AND PRIVATE ARLIE WILSON.

Photograph taken as Corporal Fletcher fired the first round in the salute to the departed leader. The boom of guns mingled with the tolling of bells in the nation's final tribute.

He will be buried this afternoon within the boundaries of the District of Columbia, the only one of his office to find a final resting place within sight of the familiar scenes of his life's greatest work.

At the chapel will be members of the present cabinet, the Supreme Court, the special delegation from the House and Senate, the chief of each diplomatic mission in Washington and his wife, four representatives of the American Legion, four representatives of the American Federation of Labor and a few others in accordance with the wishes of the Wilson family.

The committal services in the chapel will be brief, in accordance with the ritual of the Episcopal church.

SON OF BOSTON MAN

Admission to Bethlehem Chapel, which seats about 500, will be by card. The cathedral is located about one mile from the Wilson home.

Six veteran White House attendants, who served Woodrow Wilson faithfully during the eight years of his administration, were asked by Mrs. Wilson to attend the private service in the home.

MANY MESSAGES

Chief Justice William Howard Taft of the Supreme Court, when Mr. Wilson succeeded as President, and General Tasker H. Bliss, formerly army chief of staff, were added to the list of honorary pallbearers. Their names, it was stated at the Wilson home, were last night omitted from the list.

Callers continued to pass at the Wilson home to leave cards of condolence for Mrs. Wilson and members of the family. The review of sympathetic messages from far and near failed to abate. Messages came from remote corners of the earth to which the news of the former President's death did not penetrate immediately despite wire and wireless. From distant Sioux camps arriving word from the daughter, Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, whose husband is counselor to the King.

GERMANY LETS ENVOY DECIDE FOR HIMSELF

Dispenses With Official Condolence and Leaves It to His Personal Preference

Berlin, Feb. 6. (A.P.)—The attitude of the foreign office in refusing to extend official condolences on the death of Mr. Wilson has resulted in a revival of newspaper attacks regarding the late President, in which the government's action meets with approval in some quarters while rebuked by others.

The following official statement was issued today:

"In response to an inquiry from the German ambassador in Washington whether the condolence of the German government on the death of Mr. Wilson shall be given official expression, the German government informed Ambassador Wiedrich that an official expression of condolence by the German government is to be dispensed with, but that the ambassador may decide for himself whether and in what manner he may personally participate in the national ceremonies of mourning."

Taps and Volley at English High Service

The exercises at the school were impressive. Superintendent of Schools Jeremiah E. Burke reading the proclamation on the death of Ex-President Wilson, read by Joseph Hunt Cooke, after which the buglers, selected from the school band, sounded taps.

Soldiers from the regular army were detailed from the First Corps Artillery to the school for the exercises.

Vincent Club's Annual Show to Be Held Next April, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN

ONE of the most dashing girls in the Vincent Club ever boasted was Dorothy May Robinson. Wonderfully girlish, she could dance her way through any role in the Vincent Club shows. Her trip to the club's annual show to express the fire of the Spanish era, the quaintness of the little Dutch maid, or the easy air of the blonde of the ballet girl.

But some eight years ago, Dorothy Robinson, the bride of the late Douglas Robinson of New York, a nephew of Theodore Roosevelt. The wedding, of course, was a most important event. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Jordan, who have since passed away, gave their daughter a very delightful reception at the Beacon street home following the large wedding at Trinity Church. After the marriage, the couple made their home in Gotham on Park avenue.

BUT the former Dorothy Jordan is still as devoted to the Vincent Club days here. Everyone, but now, will be interested to learn that she will probably take part in "Wake Up," the Vincent Club show to be presented in April.

She will do some of her famous dances, and if she does really come out for the evening as it is now planned, she will undoubtedly be one of the biggest "drawing cards" for the show.

It was less than two months ago by the way, that the one-time Dorothy Jordan was granted a separation from her husband in the Paris courts. Mr. Robinson, a Harvard '09 man, is still residing at the Park avenue home in New York.

A DISTINCTLY stylish figure was Mrs. Charles S. Bird, Jr. (Ulla Apollonia), in her gown of salmon velvet as she appeared at the senior supper dance the other evening.

The older daughter of Mr. R. M. Apollonia, Jr., the latter is now in the dark-haird Jutene type and the color she chose was most becoming.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bird are now back in Chicago, and last Fall they had a house at Hamilton for the Virginia hunting season.

ALSO at the senior supper dance were Mrs. Harry Pratt McKean, Jr. (Bennie Lee), and her sister, Mrs. Arthur Adams.

Mrs. McKean wore a most attractive gown of five pieces of flesh color satin with overdrift of white lace of medallion design. A large bow of lace was fastened to the side.

U. S. TO DEMAND PAYMENT OF WAR DEBTS

Pressure Will Be Brought to Bear on Foreign Nations, Says Representative Crip

Washington, Feb. 6 (N.B.)—Dell also pressure upon foreign nations to force payment of their debts to the United States may be exerted soon by the American Debt Commission.

Representative Crip of Georgia, member of the commission, declared today that he expected to confer with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to suggest a more definite and active policy toward the creditors of the country.

Funding of the $2,000,000 debt by Finland, recently approved by Congress, stands as a notice to the debtor nations that the United States expects them to pay," Crip said.

It will be suggested to Secretary Mellon, chairman of the debt commission, that the board be assembled and that it draft a courteous but firm note to each of the debtor nations asking them to send representatives to the United States to arrange for funding of debts.

The Georgia Representative pointed out that debt payment has a definite relationship to reduction of taxes.

"Today our taxes are higher than those of most of our allies," Crip declared. "Our people are being taxed millions of dollars to pay interest on the bonds sold to raise money loaned to the allies. When these loans were made it was distinctly understood that the borrowing nations would pay interest promptly that American taxpayers might be relieved of it."

"There is no excuse for debtor nations longer refusing to find their indebtedness."

He was rescued by a teamster who threw him a rope. The teamster left without making himself known. Davis is at City Hospital suffering from immersion and a bruise on his right leg.

SO. BOSTON GIRL IS MISSING FROM HOME

Trace of Miss Emma Young, sixteen, of No. 211 K street, South Boston, is being sought by the police of Boston and New York.

Miss Young left for school yesterday morning, but failed to appear for the session. The parents of the young girl are at a loss to explain the girl's disappearance. It is thought she may have gone to New York to attend a scenario writers' school.

The girl, a pupil at St. Peter's Parochial School, is described as attractive, with reddish hair, light complexion and dark brown eyes. When seen last she was dressed in a clean, striped, pink coat, low tan Oxford shoes, tan stockings and dark hat. She weighs about 115 pounds and is five feet seven inches tall.

Huck Towelling at Half Price or Less

It is hard to know which to feature first with this huck-towel—its price or its beauty. It is selling, by the yard, at half its regular price or less.

It was made by one of the best manufacturers and certainly shows its quality—soft to the touch and pleasing to the eye, with its silky all-over designs. There are too many different ones to describe.

We have had a number of hemstitched towels made up from this huck with colored linen borders—and if you can see them, without wanting to make some, it must be that making pretty things does not appeal to you. A good way to describe one is to say it is the sort of thing that would sell in an ultra-expensive specialty shop in a vacation resort for a very large price.

STATE HEALTH HEAD CONFIDENT OF SERUM TO CHECK DIPHTHERIA

EXPERTS PROBE DOSE IN INJURING OF ACADEMIC BOYS

Dr. Eugene R. Kelley, State commissioner of public health, has complete confidence in the efficacy of toxin-anti-toxin as a means of immunizing children from attacks of diphtheria, despite the sickness which followed the illness which has attacked pupils of the Concord Academy at Concord following injection of the serum.

Dr. Kelley added, however, that a member of the staff of the United States Hygienic Laboratory has been asked to make a complete investigation of the affair and he has called the advertisement.

wanting a revolution, especially if they did not understand clearly what a revolution would mean. Against the fifteen thousand who would have one hundred and nine million, nine hundred and eighty-five thousand NOT wanting a revolution.

THE World still studies the first labor government that old earth has ever seen, now in charge of the British Empire. You can't call the government of the French "revolution" or the present Russian government a "labor government." They are purely revolutionary and theoretical.

RANSAY MACDONALD, British labor Prime Minister, gives up one of two $25,000 salaries to which he is entitled. The English have brains enough to pay well men to whom they give important jobs. This makes it unnecessary for oil companies or others to pay them after they LEAVE office—for services rendered while IN office.

BRITISH LABOR also decides that it will not make a "capital levy" which means taking away so much from the capital of each individual. That is a wise suggestion. It's all right to take a piece out of the rich, but it's a mistake to take a piece out of the poor when it comes to cutting taxes out of it. It loses courage, New York, Harriet Hueston, Detroit, Davenport of Illinois, and Frances Mills of Milwaukee.

The school treatment administered on Tuesday last week by Dr. Charles Hutchinson, one of the leading authorities of the world, was previously used by the school treatment with amazing success on more than 100 pupils of the town's public schools, his own children.

Three days after the injections at Concord Academy there were no signs of anything was given. The children continued to grow. Swellings began to appear upon their bodies, in the case of one little girl a boil described as of the "size of a walnut."

The State Board ruled Dr. Edwin H. Place to Concord from the City Hospital, where Dr. Place has charge of the diphtheria department. Since that time Dr. Place has called at least twice on each of the nineteen little patients.

The theory of physicians who have studied the strange development of the serum, which was administered last week, caused the "terrible decomposition of the toxin-antitoxin." For fear that this is what happened, the government has recalled all the serum that was tested in government laboratories.

It would be wise to warn the schooler I would pass on her standard side. The schooler answered the signal and cut across my bow. When I saw some action was unavoidable. I then sounded the emergency whistle, then signalled for reverse, full speed.

Nobody was injured in the crash. There was much excitement among the schoolers on the ferry. The schooler was towed to Concord by the ferry. She is owned by O'Brien Brothers, fish dealers, and was to leave today for the fishing ground. This carries a crew of 12.

STEALING JEWELS CURSE WRECKED TWO MEN

They Handed $300,000 Gems of Buffalo Woman Robbed at Gay Party

New York, Feb. 4.—The curse that, according to an underworld superstition, has been laid upon the hands of those who steal jewels, was wrecked on a woman, has fallen on another person among those connected with the theft of $300,000 worth of gems from Mrs. C. P. Mrs. Schoellkopf of Buffalo at a Gay New Year party a year ago.

The latest victim is an aged New York jeweler, from whom detectives recovered the last of the pearls stolen from Mrs. Schoellkopf.

Police said the jeweler had aged twenty years in a week. The last time he visited headquarters, it was said, his teeth chattered, he was hardly able to make himself understood. When he left, a policeman had to help him down stairs.

This jeweler and John Mahan, the dealer in stolen goods, were both men who had been delivered soon after the robbery, may escape prosecution. It was estimated. The most valuable of the stolen gems have been returned and both men are described as physical wrecks.

The thieves are in jail. Henry Mahan, who stole Mahan's office is in a suicide grave. Only a few of those involved in the case are still at large, and detectives believe that four of the "curses" which has fallen on the men will induce them to return the jewels they are holding. One of them is a woman to whom Mahan, soon before he killed himself, gave two diamond bracelets stolen from Mrs. Schoellkopf.

Bellboy Held as Thief
Charged with stealing the room of a guest with a master key, and stealing $25, Thomas P. Craftry, twenty-three years old, a bellboy at the Colony Plaza, was arrested today. The guest was Albert T. Alsup of New York.

When she was but four years old, Mrs. Raynor was taken from her mother, then living in Chicago, when her parents were separated by a divorce.

Her father took her to London, placed her in the home of strangers and the first day after her arrival in England, left her. He never returned.

The girl lived with her foster parents and finally married one of the sons, came to Boston to live. Their home is at No. 82 Westmoreland street, Back Bay.

Palm views led Mrs. Raynor to Canada, to Brazil and to all parts of the United States in the long search for her mother.

Then a Salvation Army worker stumbled on Mrs. Raynor, who was living in the United States in the long search for her mother.

When a cold goes down deep, with soreness, tight breathing and a heavy, hollow cough, apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores of the skin.

Massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, then spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Leave the clothing loose about the neck so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. These vapors, inhaled with fresh breath, carry the medication directly to the affected parts.

At the same time, the penetrative and stimulative effect of Vicks through the skin increases the circulation of the blood throughout the chest region, and thus helps to relieve the tightness and congestion.

For Spasmodic Croup, Children's Colds
Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the child is comfortable. Review the throat and chest with a hot flannel cloth. One application at bedtime usually prevents a night attack of croup.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever
Vicks should be inhaled in a spoon and the vapors inhaled in a small piece of the size of a pea can be swallowed every two or three hours.

INSISTS ON VERDICT OF GUILTY; PAYS FINE
William Willis, twenty, of No. 16 Woodlawn street, Jamaica Plain, one of the few victims of the epidemic poisoning to be charged with drunkenness, was indicted today in the municipal court, instead accepted a verdict of guilty and fine of $1. At the Relief Hospital Willis became hysterical, chased a nurse, Miss Allen, broke a door panel and was only subdued when Patrolman Richard Casey tapped him with his nightstick. He had to be strapped to the operating table.

It was reported at the meeting that representatives of both sides had been before the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration at the State House during the day at the request of Fred Knibb, special investigator for the Board, and that the Board requested the parties to hold themselves in readiness for further conferences.

The agreement under which the members of these local unions are now working expires on February 15.

NEVER NEGLECT A CHEST COLD. If allowed to "hang on" it means lung tissue weakened, air passages predisposed to infection. There is then danger of pneumonia and pneumonia is now more deadly than tuberculosis.

UNION GARMENT WORKERS MAY GO ON STRIKE

Conference on 40-Hour Week Has Failed to Reach Any Agreement

More than 1,000 union men, women and girls employed in the waist and dressmaking industry of this city, at a special meeting, voted full power to its executive board and conference committee to call a strike in all local shops to enforce the five-day week of forty hours, if such a measure is necessary.

The demands for the 40-hour week in place of 44 hours were presented several weeks ago and, though several conferences have been held between the parties at the Hotel Avery, no agreement has been reached.

It was reported at the meeting that representatives of both sides had been before the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration at the State House during the day at the request of Fred Knibb, special investigator for the Board, and that the Board requested the parties to hold themselves in readiness for further conferences.

The agreement under which the members of these local unions are now working expires on February 15.

NEVER NEGLECT A CHEST COLD. If allowed to "hang on" it means lung tissue weakened, air passages predisposed to infection. There is then danger of pneumonia and pneumonia is now more deadly than tuberculosis.

When a cold goes down deep, with soreness, tight breathing and a heavy, hollow cough, apply hot wet towels over throat and chest to open the pores of the skin.

Massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, then spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Leave the clothing loose about the neck so that the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. These vapors, inhaled with fresh breath, carry the medication directly to the affected parts.

At the same time, the penetrative and stimulative effect of Vicks through the skin increases the circulation of the blood throughout the chest region, and thus helps to relieve the tightness and congestion.

How Vicks Should Be Used
For Spasmodic Croup, Children's Colds—Rub Vicks over the throat and chest until the child is comfortable. Review the throat and chest with a hot flannel cloth. One application at bedtime usually prevents a night attack of croup.

For Head Colds, Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever
Vicks should be inhaled in a spoon and the vapors inhaled in a small piece of the size of a pea can be swallowed every two or three hours.

For the Cough that Sticks

Common Cough Syrup Won't Help—You've Got to Make Your Own—Use PARMINT

Cheap and Best

For any kind of a cough, but especially for the stubborn one that "won't" and keeps you awake at night, this home-made cough mixture will quickly relieve the patient, allay the inflammation and stop the cough. You can make it yourself at home in two minutes by following these instructions:

Get from your druggist one ounce of PARMINT (double strength)—to this add a little granulated sugar and enough water to make one-half pint—this is all there is to it, and children like it.

Like a soothing, healing poultice on a sore throat, PARMINT makes a mixture spread itself completely over the inflamed membrane of the throat. This causes the most stubborn cough to ease almost immediately. No ordinary slow-acting cough syrup contains this expensive ingredient.

It's a mighty fine remedy for whooping and acute laryngitis and remember that any remedy that overcomes a cough, partially or wholly, is bound to be of benefit to those who are troubled with head colds and external colds.

Get PARMINT and get better.

SEALSKIN COATS ARE CLOES

Girl, 19, and Mother of 2 Declared Answering Description by Brooklyn Victim

New York, Feb. 6.—(I.N.S.)

Two young women, pretty and bob-haired, were arrested by police today in the hunt for the mysterious Brooklyn "bobbed-hair bandit," who for weeks had terrorized storekeepers and ridiculed the efforts of police to catch her.

One of the women, Miss Rose Moore, nineteen, of Canaan, was identified by two persons bearing a resemblance to the intruder flapper that she was a sealskin coat and a hat which corresponded to the apparel of the girl bandit told police she wore.

Police say the girl has been friend with a tall blond-haired man whose description tallies with that of the companion of the flapper crook. Miss Moore denied participation in any robbery.

The other woman, Mrs. Mary Coo, who is the police say, answers in a general way to the description of the "bobbed-hair bandit," was seized in a raid by detectives on a Thirty-ninth street, Brooklyn, apartment. Mrs. Coo, who is twenty-four and the mother of two children, denied she had any part in any robbery.

Police say they found in the Coo apartment a seal-skin coat and a strikingly colored turban corresponding to the description given by holdup victims as the garment and hat worn by the "bobbed-hair bandit."

"Doped" Robber Ends His Life in Cell After Holding Up Girls at Gun Point

Providence, Feb. 6.—A bandit, subject of charges—who made a practice of holding up girl clerks and cashiers, committed suicide in Central police station by taking poison which he had concealed in the collar of his overcoat.

The girls, when Lang pointed a revolver at them, called for help and "Kid" Stone, a well known boxer, whose real name is Peter Furlong, ran into the store. Lang threw a white powder into the boxer's eyes. It later developed that this powder was cocaine. The police captured him outside the store.

After being taken to Central police station, the bandit asked for his overcoat which had been taken from him in the inspector's office. A nun attendant after the coat was given him he choked, "Get a doctor, I've taken poison." Attendants of the prison found him on the floor of the cell. HERO DOGS GET SPECIAL PLACE AT THE SHOW

Prince, Who Saved South Boston Family, and Lassie to Be Exhibited

When more than 1,200 dogs, comprising the canine aristocracy of the United States, are assembled for the twenty annual show of the Eastern Dog Club in Mechanics Building Feb. 21, 22 and 23, Prince Murphy, a nondescript terrier with no pedigree but with a record of real devotion to his master's family, will occupy a specially decorated bench of honor.

Prince, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Francis D. Murphy of No. 443 Third street, South Boston, is the hero dog which today was sporting a medal presented by the Animal Rescue League. The medal was awarded in recognition of Prince's feat in saving his master's family by jumping on their bed during the three-day show.

Believing that either child, the one of the three, was in danger during the three-day show, Prince, owned by Dr. T. M. With entries still arriving, last year's total of 1,800 dogs had been exceeded by more than 100.

QUERY IN DEATH OF MEDFORD NURSE

Lillian Hudson Declared Victim of Infection Following Illegal Treatment

A sweeping investigation by officers operating from the office of District Attorney Arthur K. Reading of Medford, is being conducted into the death of Miss Lillian Hudson, thirty-two, of Medford.

Miss Hudson, an English nurse, died at the City Hospital Saturday, February 2, as a result of infection resulting from illegal surgery performed, police contend, in a Medford home. She was employed as a nurse in a private Medford home.

Miss Hudson entered the hospital under the name of Lillian Hudson Brown of 20-23 Peterson street, Norwell.

In her dying statement to a stenographer from the district attorney's office, she named a Boston man as being responsible for her condition. SEE DEFEAT OF IMMIGRATION BATTLE

Boston Italians Disappointed by Feeling That Congress Will Bar Their Race

By JOHN LAMBERT

Washington, Feb. 6 (C.N.S.)—The defeat of Boston citizens headed by Andrew Badaracco left here today disappointed in the thought that Congress seemed determined to pass the anti-immigration bill which strikes a death blow at the Italians and other Southern continental countries.

Their efforts to head off the bill seemed to have Andrew Badaracco been unavailing, they sorrowfully confessed. Senator David I. Walsh, Congressman Peter V. Tamm and James A. Gallagher and a few others agreed heartily to move a ray for them but they found the Republican majority hard-balled.

These are some of the impressions they got from the men with whom they talked.

AMERICAN LEAGUE HONORS GEORGE SISLER AND 'BABE' RUTH

AS BEST IN 1922 AND 1923

By NICK FLATLEY
Rewards were paid to George Sisler, the Browns first sacker and captain-manager for the coming season, and Babe Ruth, by the American League at its annual schedule meeting at the Copley Plaza.

The certificates were presented on the suggestion of the Hamilton and went to Sisler and the "Babe" as the most valued players of the American League for 1922 and last season.

The Red Sox, the Chicago White Sox, the Yankees, by Colonel Ruppert, the Senators, by President Clark Griffith, the Tigers, by Frank Navin, and the Indians by President Barabard were represented at the meeting, over which President Byron Beneshoff Johnson presided.

Vice-President Fritch represented the Browns and Secretary Harry Graham represented the White Sox. On the suggestion of President Beneshoff of the Boston club, practice for the visiting club will be limited to thirty minutes from the opening of the season until June 1, when the time limit will be twenty minutes.

All the reported and suggested deals, Johnson or Plette of Detroit, for Jimmy Dykes of the Athletics and the swap between the Yankees and the White Sox and other possible trades fell by the wayside, at least no publicity was given about any and all attempts to trade, if there were any, proved abortive.

Marblehead Mixup Hearing Friday

By FRED C. LANE
Although some of the witnesses would make the people believe that the resignation of the Marblehead High School from the North Shore League was because of summary action recently taken, that is not so, for the move has been contemplated for more than a year.

Marblehead retains its number 4 ship in that league but that's all. The connection that binds the school and the league is of the film-clip. The patience of the Marblehead school committee is tried sorely, for the members of that board feel that Marblehead has been made the goat by the dominating factors of the league and have resolved to stand for each treatment no longer.

Marblehead recounts the action at the last meeting two weeks ago. That settled it for them and the Marblehead authorities declare that the resignation may have a bad effect on the league which has declared is to be withdrawn.

But at the request of Dr. Marr of Andover who on his own responsibility acted as peacemaker, Marblehead has positioned any drastic action. Mr. Marr is fearful that the resignation may have a bad effect on the league which has declared is to be withdrawn.

At any rate Dr. Samuel C. Eisele, chairman of the Marblehead school board, considered his suggestion. Dr. Eisele contends that a member of the school board of any city or town should be eligible to attend all meetings of the North Shore League and to vote if he desires. But the league rules declare that only the principal, faculty manager and coach of each school may attend the North Shore League meetings.

Marblehead has been one of the best financial towns in the league. When playing at home their games are well attended. Away from home the school has drawn a large crowd. Dr. Marr feels that such a valuable member cannot be lost without serious effect. That is the reason for his stand.

Aid Mile. Lenglen French Net Cry

Paris, Feb. 6.—The French Tennis Federation, in an effort to win for France more Olympic points than it has secured, has decided to send a team of French tennis players to the Olympic games at Chamonix. The team will consist of René Lacoste, a slaying, slaying player, paired with Lacoste, a steady, hard driving baseliner, and Brugnon, an extremely brilliant player, but very erratic at times, will find a remarkably steady influence in Cochet's cool, clocklike game.

"SWEETUMS" DENIED A DRINK TO COOL LOVE-PARCHED LIPS

NOT A PENNY FOR CANDLER, SAYS CANDLER JURY

Atlanta, Feb. 6.—Not even the whereabout for a lone drink of the famous beverage sold by her erstwhile lover was given the beautiful Mrs. Onezima de Bouché by the jury which threw down her suit for $500,000 heart balm from Asa G. Candler, "Coca Cola King."

Asa G. Candler

There was in the verdict not even efficiency to reimburse Mrs. de Bouché for one of the many post-uptake stamps she used in penning ardent, loving phrases to the aged Romeo in answer to the even more torridly affectionate epistles from Candler which had been brought in as evidence to the trial. "AFFIRMED," the jury said, but forty-five cents to liberate the small victim of one of a million swears deluged by the New Orleans society beauty. When it came back with its verdict, the jury of Candler neither the aged defendant nor the middle-aged plaintiff was in the courtroom to hear it.

Attorneys for the Atlanta millionaire wound up the presentation of their case with a vivid description comparing the plight of Candler as akin to that of a fish retaining its freedom after being held for a time snoring on the hook, only to be caught again and placed in a cramped aquarium.

The jury, apparently taking pity, has permitted Candler to his freedom from the pitiless publicity accorded such a fish.

NOT EVEN A "WIDOW"

The strongest point made by defense counsel was their claim that Mrs. de Bouché is still the legal wife of Dr. Adolphus H. Candler, because of an allegedly fraudulent and illegal divorce decree obtained in Reno. Mrs. de Bouché had introduced letters showing that Candler broke his engagement with her, the claim that he had been of improper conduct on her part, and demanded annulment of her reputation.

DOCTOR JAILED FOR FALSE DEATH ENTRY

New York, Feb. 6.—Dr. Harry H. Candler, of No. 125 West 84th street, was sentenced to an indefinite term in the penitentiary in New York State after his conviction in a charge of issuing a false death certificate. The charge arose out of the death of Mrs. Josephine Cummings on December 2. She was buried on the next day, but the body was exhumed and submitted to an autopsy at the house of her sister, Mrs. Catherine O'Connell, of No. 142 West 84th street, and Mrs. O'Connell's husband, who said that they were in the room when the death was due to hemorrhage and not infection.

While the court held that the second marriage was null and void because it occurred before his American divorce was legit in France, it was held that the second wife and her children are entitled to share in the estate. The court also held that the American wife's claim against the French wife on the allegation that she had already been taken over by the French wife's estate, which should be divided among all heirs.

REBELS FLED IN PANIC FROM VERACRUZ

Federal Troops Are to Occupy City as De La Huerta Vanishes

Washington, Feb. 6.—The rebels left Vera Cruz in a manner said by American consular officials there to have been a complete panic. Both insurrectionist military forces and the naval craft which adhered to them were described as having departed in extreme haste. Their destination was unknown to the American officials.

Mexico City, Feb. 6 (U.S.A.)—Federal troops will occupy Vera Cruz within twenty-four hours, it was predicted at the War Department today, following receipt of news that the rebels have abandoned their capital. As soon as War Secretary Berran received word that the rebels had departed from Vera Cruz he ordered a force of federal troops to advance upon Vera Cruz forthwith. According to the Mexican chief of the revolution, left Vera Cruz upon the rebel Zarragoza. One report was that he was going either to Tlaxcala or to Oaxaca; another was that he was in flight towards the Mexican Pacific coast. It was forecast that the crew of the rebel ship would be captured.

Cop Horrid to Her on Car, Says Typist; Tells His Boss

Miss Bernice Doyle, 61 Montreal street, West Roxbury, is a stenographer in the Court house. One of her good friends is Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson.

Miss Doyle was on a street car homebound, recently when a policeman entered smoking. "I looked out the window at the snow," said Miss Doyle. "I thought I was seeing the reflection of my cigarette. But he, 'Well, do you see enough? Then he acted perfectly horrid,' she added."

She told it all to Commissioner Wilson, so that's why Patrolman James Quinn went on trial today before a board of police captains. R. I. Judge Tells Bar Association Swift Punishment Is Needed

Bootlegging and hijacking, with gun fights on the roads and transportation of liquor by land and sea is flourishing and has become the most profitable line of criminal industry in years. Judge Arthur L. Brown of Rhode Island declared at the dinner of the Massachusetts Bar Association to judges of the United States Courts of the First Circuit, in the Copley place.

Asserting the bootlegging industry had collapsed, might abandon the vessel somewhere along the coast, he said he is in the state of the revolution, left Vera Cruz upon the rebel Zarragoza. It was forecast that the crew of the rebel ship would be captured.

try is the greatest problem facing the courts today, Judge Brown said of only swift and severe punishment can bring results

The combination of the automobile and the automatic pistol in crime is also a terror, Judge Brown declared. "In other days the thief could not drive up to a place in a speedy automobile truck, plunder and then speed away," he said. "Recently," Judge Brown said, in illustrating the extent to which thieves may carry on their work, "we had a great deal of freight car robberies which amounted to over $1,000,000 before the band was arrested. A band of men struck out at night in an automobile truck and would go to a freight car and carry its entire contents away. Twenty cents appeared before me before we arrested this band."

Judge George H. Bingham of New Hampshire, declared as a rule the salaries paid judges of the state and nation today are wholly inadequate. The salary of the judge should be at least in an automobile truck and would go to a freight car and carry its entire contents away. Twenty cents appeared before me before we arrested this band."

Sweeter Than an Angel—
Like a Prayer—Is Your Girl Like "Chickie"?

THE STORY OF "CHICKIE" TO DATE

"Chickie" Beve is the only child in the family. Her sister having died when she was quite young, the parents lavished all their affection on "Chickie." As the story opens "Chickie" is attending business college and Arthur Santiago, one of her classmates, takes her to a dance. She confides to Mary Blake, her chum, that the avenues of romance are opening to her.

"Did you get lost?" Mary whispered after they had left the dance and were making down the block. "When our car comes." Well, none of that for mine! I can thank my sisters for opening my eyes."

"Oh, everyone doesn't have a hard time like Lucy does," Chickie interrupted.

"No, that's what Lucy thought five years ago and I suppose mother didn't think that too, when she was young. Look what they got!"

Chickie closed her eyes. What a grating way Mary had of poking these unpleasant things right in your nose! Chickie preferred to waive aside such solid realities as children with grubby faces. She wanted love to be as she dreamed it, an undefinable sweetness that folded about her, leading her along with music in her ears.

She could never couple love with peeling potatoes; with putting fresh papers on the kitchen shelves; with rushing

GOLDEN RULE DAILY GIVEN NEW START

Will Re-open Lynn Shoe Factory With $15,000 Raised by Loyal Workers

"Golden Rule" Jim Daly has come back!

Within two weeks the former head of the Cushing Shoe Company will resume the manufacture of shoes at the old factory, No. 48 Oxford street, Lynn.

The reopening of the factory will be a testimonial to Daly, nothing more, for the former employee, by contributing each amount as they could, made the new venture possible.

The sum of $15,000 was raised. With this as a start Daly took orders for more than $100,000 worth of shoes and the "Golden Rule" who stood by him will make them.

When the company encountered financial difficulties and the property was sold, the workers declared that Jim Daly was a victim of circumstances.

A Lynn priest, who knew Daly, said he lived among his workers. Insured on adding a generous contribution.

When the men who had bought in his machinery insisted on an exorbitant price, Daly merely told them to get their machinery out within a month.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON CRYING AND WHAT IT MEANS

By Dr. Frank Crane

By crying I mean weeping, yet not exactly. A widow weeps, but we do not say of a child that it weeps, but that it cries. There is a difference.

Let us analyze crying and see what it means.

Take, for instance, Tommy, aged seven. He is driving nails. He accidentally drives the wrong nail, his thumb nail. Immediately he sets up that performance known as crying. That is, he contorts his face, opens his mouth widely and emits from it a series of intensely disagreeable noises. This is accompanied by water coming from his eyes and running down his cheeks.

What is the object of this? His mother does not know. She comes running and says, "Don't cry, Tommy. Crying doesn't do you good."

But the mother's point of view is entirely erroneous. Tommy knows perfectly well that crying does no good. He is not trying to do good. It is not a benevolent noise that he is making. He is not at present in the uplift business.

His auntie comes also, and is equally mistaken. She says, "There, Tommy, don't cry. You know that crying doesn't help your thumb any."

But Tommy is not crying because it helps his thumb any. He is crying because it does not help his thumb any.

So the two female slaves do the best they can. They wash the thumb, put medicine on it and tie it up in a nice clean rag. And by and by the noise ceases.

That is, until the rest of the family come home. Then he haws it all over again. He has exhausted all the supply of sympathy from mamma and auntie, but as soon as others come he starts bawling for a new supply.

And now you have discovered what manner of thing crying is. It was not a benevolent noise, as his mother conceived, nor a medicinal noise, as his auntie held. It was an Advertising noise.

It meant, "I want everybody within the sound of my voice, and I wish that circle extended as widely as possible, to know that my thumb hurts."

Tommy is laboring under the infantile delusion that the world is interested in his thumb.

Let us now take the Honorable Thomas, aged forty-seven. When he makes a slip and cracks his thumb with a hammer he does not whine. He shuts his lips tightly and says nothing, at least until he gets out behind the barn.

In those forty years of experience the Honorable Thomas has learned the important truth, that the population of this world does not care a whoop in Hades whether his thumb hurts or feels good.

What Is the Value of the Everglades?

The Future Will Tell. No One Can Guess
Copyright, 1924, Hearst Co.

That vast region in Florida known as the Everglades, fortunately made State property, is one of the many spots on this continent that interest the whole people, representing the untold, unimaginable, UNDEVELOPED wealth of this nation.

The so-called "drainage" district of the Everglades includes six million acres of the most fertile, valuable land in the whole world. It could be built up with dikes into such a country as Holland, but infinitely more fertile and beautiful.

It will be ALL reclaimed, eventually, presenting to the world a fertility that centuries could not exhaust, capable of feeding endless millions of people.

California energy has irrigated deserts that were considered worthless and has changed dry, barren soil into land more valuable than any gold mine.

All that is needed is CAPITAL, INTELLIGENCE AND ENERGY to develop this nation's indescribable wealth.

Drainage, irrigation, good roads, conservation of the peoples' right in their own property will one of these days make the average citizen of the United States as rich in the actual government-owned wealth of his nation as one of those Indians out West on whose territory they find oil wells.

One man to be congratulated is that able young Buffalo newspaper man named W. J. Connors. Mr. Connors, who lives part of the time in Florida and who feels that between sixty-five and ninety should be the busiest part of a man's life, has built through the Florida Everglades, from the east coast to the Gulf on the west coast, a highway for automobiles.

He thinks the highway will make him rich in the tolls that it will pay. In any case, it will keep him busy and make him useful, which is more important.

You can cross now in your automobile from Palm Beach or Miami, or Jacksonville, to the Gulf of Mexico, all the way across Florida and back again with comfort, paying a small toll to Mr. Connors for the use of his road.

That piece of work by W. J. Connors shows that this is a land of opportunity, also that if you give a man a chance he will do something with it.

Connors had no start of the usual kind, no inherited money. But he had energy, he worked, and he made others work. Now he renders an important service to a great State.

Don't forget that Florida is a land of wonderful opportunity—health, sunshine, beauty, fertile land, fine real estate opportunities, and above all, GOOD PEOPLE.

SAVED BY ARTICLE IN AMERICAN

Worcester Victim of Greedy "Physicians" Recovers After Insulin Test

How the publication in the Boston American of an article on the use of insulin in treating diabetes the facts for which were furnished by Dr. F. G. Brigham, Back Bay specialist, saved from death a Worcester man, has been revealed in connection with the Boston American's campaign against doctors of questionable ability.

"Fifteen months ago, my brother consulted a physician," the sister of the man writes the American. "He had been feeling very badly and had lost considerable weight. By one test, this physician immediately diagnosed his ailment as diabetes."

"After almost a year's treatment he was worse instead of better—weighing only 100 pounds. Then he went to another 'doctor' on the advice of friends and was told that his trouble was caused by a diabetogenic virus at the base of his spine."

"Brother underwent treatments but still no improvement and no gain in weight."

LIVING DEATH. "Finally, with everlasting gratitude to your newspaper, we read an article you printed by Dr. Brigham, of Boston, on diabetes."

"Brother made an appointment with the doctor and last week he was thoroughly examined, a blood test was made and several other tests given, with the astounding result that it was found he had no diabetes and never had."

"His only trouble came from diseased tonsils. Think of it! 'Think of the living death he suffered for fifteen months—the heartaches, the sorrow and the suffering of his wife and family and all for what? Either downright ignorance or greed on the part of the first two so-called 'doctors.'"

The article to which the letter refers was an interview in which Dr. Brigham discussed at great length the proper methods of detection and treatment of diabetes. Dr. Brigham also told of his work in instructing other New England physicians in the proper use of insulin and he also warned against its promiscuous use.

ANOTHER BRAND.

The Worcester woman also referred to the case of her sister who was taken seriously ill with an attack of the illness. After she took treatment from a physician who was unable to assist her, although continuing to take her money, she became so weak she slipped into unconsciousness.

"When a physician the family had known for many years was known to be a practitioner of high repute, was called in, he said he was entirely restored to health at the end of a week."

"It is quite evident," the letter concludes, "that there really are cures for diabetes and that the greed of physicians in the guise of physicians. Many death certificates started by this class of 'doctors' should be in the collection 'Deaths caused by gross ignorance for greed on the part of attending physicians.'"

PEGGY O'NEIL

GIRL SETS WRITERS DEBATING

Peggy O'Neil's Breakfast Place Gets Chesterton and Shaw All Hot Up

By ROBERT J. FREW

London, Feb. 6.—Gilbert E. Chesterton and George Bernard Shaw, who recently battled over the question of beer, are now titling their lances, because Peggy O'Neil this week pleaded for more variety in the English breakfast.

The debate opened when Chesterton, in the Evening Standard, said that breakfast is not more intelligent than beef steaks.

"Breakfasts are unknown in the United States, and Americans should not take the subtlest of breakfast in the presence of four-shilling. They sleep in hot houses and awake as they are able to eat a few bits of stale food of fresh fruit and drink gallons of leavener and alcohol."

"That is not breakfast. If there is one glorious thing in England which must never die, it is the breakfast bacon and eggs."

To this Shaw at once takes exception, demanding—

"Why bacon? The Jews never eat 'breakfast.' Artichokes could hardly have been expected to go on eating artichokes and onions every morning for half a year."

"If Chesterton had attacked breakfast without relish and intolerance in stead of fruit, I should have sympathized."

LEAGUE WORKS FOR FIXED EASTER DATE

Geneva, Feb. 6.—The Federated Churches of Christ in America has written the League of Nations that it is deeply interested in the efforts of the League to secure a universal agreement for a fixed date for Easter.

The League is undertaking a general reform of the calendar and the determination of a definite date for Easter Sunday is one of the chief aims. Letters have been dispatched to representatives of the Christian churches in all 48 governments requesting an outline of views on the reforms suggested.

FOOD EXPERT URGES USE OF TOASTED WHEAT PRODUCTS

Every good housekeeper realizes that toast is her best friend because it is quickly and easily prepared, economical, and when it is made and served right, it is delicious. What could be a better way to help out the wheat situation than to "do it with toast?"

People seem to be of two minds at least two, about what good toast is. Most people like the kind with the soft center best. If you prefer it this way, you should use bread that is rather fresh. Brown it quickly by first on one side then the other. If you want the brittle kind, use drier bread cut fairly thin, and toast it more slowly. In any case be sure that it is buttered and served while it is still very hot. That is the main secret.

MILK TOAST.
Many people think of milk toast as an invalid's dish, or something to eat only when the appetite fails. There is another very good use for it that is usually overlooked. It is one of the best things to give school children for breakfast. Try this on your breakfast table.

Place two slices of hot buttered toast in a soup plate and pour over them some hot milk. Sprinkle with paprika.

TOASTED HAM SANDWICHES.
Make a ham sandwich with butter or boiled ham. Season it to taste and toast the outside. If you like lettuce and mayonnaise with it, have them ready to slip in as you take the sandwich off the toaster.

CINNAMON TOAST.
Mix 1 teaspoon of cinnamon thoroughly with 1/2 cup sugar. Roll it on hot, well buttered toast. Toast the top side again. This is particularly good with afternoon tea, or for Sunday night supper. If you like balance with it, they may be mixed with the sugar and cinnamon, and made into a paste with melted butter and spread on dry toast.

TOASTED CHEESE.
Break an egg into a cup. Fill the cup half full with milk or cream. Season with salt and pepper. Add grated cheese to fill the cup. Mix thoroughly with a fork and spread on thin round pieces of fresh bread that have been toasted on one side.

Roll it with paprika and brown slowly under a rather low flame. Serve hot.

TO USE LEFT OVERS.
When you are serving a creamed dish on toast you should use a cream sauce of moderate thickness and the crisper kind of toast. When you do this the toast absorbs some of the sauce and the flavor, without getting the toast bit tough.

GOOD COMBINATIONS.
For breakfast.
Toast and jelly, or jam, or marmalade.
Toast and bacon.
Broiled tomato on toast.
Toasted corn on toast.

FOR LUNCHEON OR SUPPER.
Toasted sandwiches—any kind.
Any cooked meat, or fish, or vegetable, on toast.

4 Tons of Fat Men at Heavyweight Round-up

Thirty men of Greater Boston, weighing together nearly four tons, met in the American House for a dinner and entertainment of the United States Fat Men's Club. Burpee B. Bent of Brookline, the heaviest man present, weighs 220 pounds.

Carl F. Shaw, president, of Melrose Highlands, announced two tons had been added to the club in the last month.

CREAMED CHEESE AND TOMATO ON TOAST.
Any kind of toasted sandwich. Creamed mushrooms, or chicken, or sweetbreads, on toast.

TOASTED CHEESE.
Any bread will make good toast. Fresh bread makes the best toast. Graham bread and raisin bread are particularly delicious.

One of the best things about toast is that it can be used in an endless variety of combinations for luncheon and tea and supper. It is good with almost anything—when it's hot.

GIRL'S LIFE SAVED BY GLASS OF MILK

A glass of milk administered by her roommate probably saved the life of Theresa Kennedy, twenty-three years old, of No. 124 Union street, Lynn, who had swallowed poisonous medicine by mistake. The girl was taken to the Lynn Hospital and, after treatment, sent home. She was suffering from a cold and was gargling her throat with salicylic napthol.

MOST COSTLY LAND VALUES IN BOSTON

Corners of Tremont and Winter Streets, City Experts Declare

Where is the most valuable land in Boston located?

To this question most Bostonians would immediately reply that it is the plot at the corner of Washington street and Temple place, where the Kresge store is located. For generations that land has the highest valuation in the city, but in the past years the valuations have shifted and today both corners of Tremont and Winter street are officially regarded by the assessors as the most valuable in Boston.

The land on these corners is paying taxes at the rate of valuation of $120 per square foot, yet it is doubtful whether this land could be purchased for double that amount as they are owned by the heirs of old Boston families who are quite content with the big income derived from them. The J. V. A. Phillips estate owns the southerly corner, while the northern corner is the property of the Phillips estate, of which former Mayor Peter's wife is one of the heirs.

SHOPPING DISTRICT LEADS

While Tremont street, from School to Boylston street, is now the most valuable land in the city, yet it doesn't mean that the Washington street property in the same area has disappeared. For instance the land in Newspaper Row has come in expensive bounds and one of the most valuable corner lots in the city is at Washington and School streets where for many years the Old Corner Book Store was located, but now owned by one of the United States Stores. Land at this point has an assessed valuation of $175 a square foot.

The shopping district, however, has the greatest land valuation. Most real estate experts believe that the site occupied by R. H. Stearns Company, at Tremont street and Temple place, is the most valuable of any of the larger plots in the city. It is assessed for $27 a foot. This property is owned by Mrs. Isaacson. The opposite corner, where the C. Crawford-Holliston store is located, has an assessed valuation of $245 per foot, but the plot is not as large as the one occupied by the Stearns store. These two corners are the second highest in valuation in the city.

CORNER RATED HIGH

The corner of Temple place and Washington street, which for generations was the most valuable land, is now assessed for $200 per square foot, while the corner of Winter and Washington streets, where the Touraine Glove store is located, is assessed for $197 per foot, and the Olchert corner is $113 a foot less. The Touraine Glove Co. is rated as paying the highest rent per foot of any concern in the city. The valuations on these corners would be greatly in excess of their present rate if it weren't for the abatement tax caused by the subway being under it. Many think that this property, now owned by George A. Carpenter, is the best in the city, despite the fact that it doesn't have the highest assessment.

Maybe your husband discovered our Bond

REMEMBER the night your husband said: "You look tired tonight; why don't you sleep late tomorrow?"

And you replied: "But I have to get up at six o'clock and set the dough."

"That's foolish," he said.

"Foolish," you echoed—"perhaps so—but would you be willing to eat bread I didn't bake myself?" And he hesitated—and you got up at six o'clock as on every other baking morning.

Perhaps it was that very night that he looked up from his newspaper and said:

"Look here; this reads like something I'd be willing to take a chance on. Here is a bread that is guaranteed with a Bond on every wrapper. It absolutely certifies that only the purest home ingredients are used in the baking, and they call the bread Bond Bread. Let's try it once and see."

So husbands sometimes have their uses around the house after all. That Bond proved to be a Liberty Bond so far as you are concerned.

It freed you from the long ordeal of those baking days—forever.

TOAST PARTIES WILL BE NEW FASHION

Toasting Parties from now on will be the popular thing throughout New England.

Toast is being taken from its conventional sphere as a food reserved for babies and invalids and by the sheer merit of its worth placed in the front rank of nutritive, tasty articles of food.

Why should it be? If Charles Lamb were alive today he could draw from it for a campaign article on the delicatessen of toast in the streets and blossoms of toast. Bread and fire—two of mankind's oldest and most trusted servants have been for thousands of years possible allies for the promotion of wholesome, wholesome toast.

No doubt, if tradition would yield up the first toasting party, it was brought about by leaving the great mound of freshly sliced bread too close to the open embers of a good fire. And our ancestor biting it with maxillary smile in delight, as he discovered that toast is not burned, but bread bettered.

COMING INTO ITS OWN. But be all these things as they may, toast is coming into its own. An increased portion of wheat in the form of lumpy toast will gratefully throughout the land as a result of the national "Eat More Toast" campaign, which is being sponsored by the Wheat Council of the United States and is now receiving the co-operation of thousands of New Englanders.

The movement is one of the biggest national efforts ever put forth to increase consumption of wheat and as such is a timely contribution to economic readjustment in a country where wheat surplus is causing a vast sort of industrial indigestion. Toast will prove a mighty remedy for this evil, as an aid to bad digestion, it has long been one of the physician's dietary aids. And as an aid to economic digestion it is expected to prove just as potent and without pleasant.

The Wheat Council considers the toast campaign as one most practical means of restoring the per capita consumption of wheat to its pre-war figure, by creating a broader domestic market which will contribute to the restoration of national prosperity.

Toasting and eating toast, as a great big co-operative effort, as a great big co-operative effort, has caught the nation's fancy. New Englanders are taking it up with vigor and is helping assure the position of Toast as a Prime Minister of Wheat.

As the coordinating agency, the Wheat Council has effected complete co-operation of various industries and local organizations. In cities and towns, local toast committees have organized campaigns in conformity with the national program. Representatives of the various food industries affected compose these committees. In Chicago, forty-three industries and their allied trades decided they could do more by working together than by promoting separate food campaigns and other cities are following the Chicago plan which provides for window display, newspaper, billboard and every other form of advertising. Banners which carry "toast and—", signs advertising various food with toast, milk, honey, bakery and other delivery vehicles.

RADIO AIDS DRIVE. The electrical, gas and baking industries have put their combined pressure behind the campaign, according to the Wheat Council, the electrical companies advertising toast in various ways besides putting a mention of the campaign on their monthly bills. The gas industry features toast in home economic classes and recipes describing how toast may be served in twenty-one different ways are being broadcasted by radio.

AID TO FARMER PRINTED BY HATHAWAY

Toast Campaign, Led by Hoover, Will Be Great Benefit, Says N. E. Chairman

Alton H. Hathaway of C. P. Hathaway & Sons, chairman of the New England Toast Campaign Committee said:

"Not so many years ago we were given toast to eat only when we were sick, or our stomachs were upset. While toast serves the same valuable purpose today, it is coming into universal use as a delicious food, wholesome and appetizing alike to the growing child and the strong, robust man or woman."

"Plain bread has little appeal to many people, but the delicious aroma of a plate of buttered toast fresh and hot tempts the most jaded appetite."

L.D. BY HOOVER. "Bark of the Toast Campaign is the Wheat Council of the United States, a group of citizens from all walks of life under the leadership of men like Mr. Hoover, whose purpose is to put the EAT back into WHEAT."

"Before the war our average consumption of wheat per person was 5 1/2 bushels a year but since the war it has only seen 4 2/3 bushels a year, a reduction of about 30,000,000 bushels annually. Under the food administration in wartime we were required to save wheat and we responded so well that this is the result."

"To replace it with more expensive food embarrasses the farmer who cannot find a fair market and increases the weekly food bill of each and every family."

COULD EAT SURPLUS. "Even on the pre-war basis our consumption of wheat was far less than in most European countries. If we go back to normal we can readily eat much of the surplus wheat to the benefit of our health and pocketbook."

"We can do it with pleasure in the form of toast. Toast in the morning will send the children off to school, well fed, it will aid in a hundred well chosen recipes, and it will be a real economy in many homes that have not yet formed the habit of toasting. Toast bread is delicious toasted. Toast bread also makes wonderful toast. This campaign is to encourage thought and interest in this valuable food."

"Toast is good food."

increased consumption would bring relief to the wheat farmer; that the consuming public as a whole does not realize the nutritive value of foods made from wheat.

SUPPORTS MERCIER'S REUNION STATEMENT

London, Feb. 4.—The movements toward the reunion of the Christian churches were discussed today by the Archbishop of Canterbury in addressing the convocation of Canterbury at Westminster.

Discussing criticisms aroused by conversations between Anglican and Catholics under the roof of Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, the archbishop declared the best answer to those denouncing him as "betraying the church" as "bowing down to idolatry," was silence. There were no negotiations whatever only conversations and Cardinal Mercier had emphasized this as strongly as he had.

TOAST IS PRAISED BY DR. MAHONEY

"The toasting of bread," says Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, "improves its digestibility for several reasons. Toasting changes bread's physical character so that every portion of it is made more easily accessible to the digestive juices namely, the saliva of the mouth and the gastric juices of the stomach. For the same reason, also, toasted bread does not tend to accumulate in lumps in the stomach, but furthermore converts starches into the more digestible sugars and toasting of bread in this way, also tends to produce digestible, by the conversion into sugar of starches which may have escaped such process of conversion in the original cooking of the bread."

TOAST— The Refinement of Bread

If "Bread is your Best Food" then toast is Bread in a most delicious form. For toasting is to Bread what baking is to an apple or parching is to a nut.

The heat in toasting Bread partly turns the starch of flour into sugar. This is the secret of that delightful flavor in crisp, well-browned toast.

If your appetite is jaded with the ordinary daily three meals, try hot buttered toast for breakfast, asparagus on toast for luncheon, milk toast or chicken a la king for dinner.

There are unlimited possibilities for delightful dishes made with toast. And it is a most healthful food. When the children demand between-meal snacks give them toast spread with marmalade or jam.

It will not only satisfy their ravenous appetites but will supply the energy their growing bodies need.

Though good Bread doesn't require toasting to prove its goodness, toasting is one proof that it is quality Bread. When you buy your next loaf, slice it thin for toasting and notice that there are no jagged edges to burn. Feel the firm, smooth texture, then place it upon your toaster to brown. Watch how evenly it colors. That means really good Bread.

Your baker makes it his business to produce quality Bread. He uses only best ingredients: best flour, sugar, shortening, rich milk and Fleischmann's Yeast. And with his skill he bakes all the flavor of a wheat field into one loaf of Bread. Enhance this flavor by toasting your Bread and enjoy the keen delight of a satisfied appetite.

ROTATING GRID PEAK SHOWS UP WELL

"Resistor" Has Quiet Operation and Constant Range of Resistance

The necessity for a variable grid leak which will give quiet operation, a good range of resistance, and remain unaffected by dampness has long been recognized by amateur and professional builders.

To fill this requirement, a new grid leak, which operates with an original method for obtaining a variable resistance, has just appeared on the market. It is known as the "rotator".

The leak consists essentially of two disks, somewhat smaller than a silver dollar, around the circumference of which are two strips of resistance material.

The two disks are mounted face to face and a small quantity of mercury held between them. The mercury forms a contact between the two strips of resistance material, and permits the disks to be rotated for changing the resistance.

The instrument gives any resistance from one-half to five megohms. It is supplied for panel mounting, requiring only a three-fourth inch hole in the panel for the shaft and binding. The two binding posts are in position for attaching the grid condenser, and soldering leads are provided. If desired, however, it may be mounted back of the panel.

LINKING GRAND BANKS WITH HUB

TUNING IN ON SCHOONER GRAND MARSHAL

When Captain Simon Thurlatt of the Boston fishing schooner Grand Marshal made port with his ship at half past the fish, he believed that one of his crew had been lost. Incredibly disclosed, however, that the fish had been lowered for the death of ex-President Wilson and for the first time it became generally known that the ship had installed a radio receiving set aboard his ship by which he received the news. The skipper, seen with photos on his head, predicts that all the fishing craft out of the coast will soon be equipped with sets so great was the interest shown by his fellow fishermen.

RADIO QUERIES

Radio Editor:

Can you give me the location of station 2AN, broadcasting in voice Friday night at 1:30 a. m. Its religious talks were interesting and clear, but his call letters were indistinct. He said: "We are calling—2AN—do you hear us?"

Length under 200. I think. What all answers would I speak that call letters once distinctly. The "Willie-Tommy-Annie-Sammy" stunt of WTAJ is the right dope. How can I increase the wavelength of my set. Can you locate WJAB or WJAG, owned like the Tower, E. G. J. T. L.

2AN is located for WJL, J. Madole, 2AN, 1218 Chickadee avenue, Wood, Mass., N. Y. A loading coil or coils are necessary for increasing the wave length. Neither of the stations you mention are correct, and there is none listed in Power, II.

I have a two-tube set with 195 tubes and two transformers of the Workite type, with 85 volts on the P. T. tube and on the detector, and have secured the best of results. When I did my two stage amplifier, there is reason why I should not reach the coast nearby. I had my Super in operation for a week and heard about fifty stations, many of them on the loud speaker. HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. M. MAHONEY,
Boston Health Commissioner

IN no other city in the country do fish and shellfish play a more prominent part in the general diet of all the people than in Boston.

Because of our proximity to the sea, and the abundance of fish and shellfish grounds, fish is comparatively cheap in Boston, and is so everywhere else.

There is an old adage that says: "Fish is as good as a doctor." It is in such a thing, but fish, when fresh and properly prepared, forms an excellent diet, and one that should be eaten by everyone.

Fresh fish is much more palatable than meat and requires less careful handling than the average food.

Meat, when aged, has more flavor and is more tender when aged whereas fish begins to deteriorate almost immediately after death and decomposes very rapidly. Even when kept cold or on ice the flavor of fish is impaired by long keeping.

Remember that fish that is not fresh or has abnormally dry scales has a marked odor should not be used for human food.

It is possible for fish and for shellfish such as oysters, clams and lobsters to become contaminated while still in their natural haunts. Bacteria will often enter an oyster bed and there is little one can do to detect the contamination except to use the senses of smell and taste very carefully.

Questions Answered

In the statement that more men die of heart disease in the United States than in any other country, is there any truth?

LEONARD

ANSWER: It is true that in the United States more men die of heart disease than in any other country. This is due to the fact that the United States has a larger population than any other country, and a larger number of men die of heart disease than in any other country.

The Bonus Bill

Editor Boston American:

Allow me to say a few words in defense of the much abused and misunderstood Adjusted Compensation Bill.

I start by saying that the public press, with few exceptions, hears papers being one, have not given this bill a fair trial before the public.

I imagine that seventy per cent. of the citizenry have not even a vague conception of the construction and progressive provisions of this great piece of legislation. This bill should be accepted in the public press, this being the most complete manner in which the public mind can be enlightened. The policy thought, which is to be followed in the bill, but paragraphs only for Adjusted Compensation.

These two bills have been maliciously portrayed by propaganda in "revelations" - whereas the unvarnished truth reveals that they have no bearing whatsoever one upon the other.

It is high time in my estimation that the public and the predatory interests come down to earth and lift the hands off the people's representatives in Congress have voted in its favor.

W. H. SULLIVAN, Jr., Belmont.

Some Bonus Figures

Editor Boston American:

It has been stated that it has been exactly computed the total cost of the bonus, in the form of interest on the money loaned, at $1,500,000,000. In the same amount of money, if it were loaned at an interest on sixty-year bonds would amount to only $75,000,000 per year and that only $25,000,000 per year will be necessary to amortize the principal of the bonds.

At the time of land grants to the soldiers of the Mexican war, the government rightly desired to promote the settlement of western lands. It was sound policy to develop the tremendous ex-

"Prove that New England as an agricultural centre is not dead. The land is available; cheaper than tillage in practically any other part of the country."

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1924

Next Wednesday—An article on OPPORTUNITIES IN NEW ENGLAND—Things anybody can do—What has been done with one little New England town.

Minute Men, There Is Food for Thought in New England's Food Problem

Millions of Fertile Acres Now Lying Idle Should Be Put to Work

The cost of living is higher in New England than in any other section of the country.

A long-suffering people are begging for relief.

The condition is principally due to the following reasons:

First, and most important—Failure to raise and market our food supplies.

Second—Housing shortage.

Third—Fuel costs.

Fourth—Transportation difficulties.

What are the Minute Men of 1924 going to do about it? What is the answer?

RAISE YOUR OWN FOOD.

OWN YOUR HOMES.

Get your foodstuffs from your own land and waters, as did the Minute Men of '76.

Raise cattle, sheep, swine and poultry.

Eat more of your own fish.

Grow more vegetables and more fruits.

Prove to the world that New England as an agricultural centre is not dead.

That will help to remove the greatest burdens the people of this section have to bear.

We cannot control the cost of coal because we have no coal deposits in New England. To secure cheaper coal and a steadier flow of coal, we must co-operate with other sections of the country which are in the same predicament as New England.

Alone, by ourselves, we cannot cure the transportation ills with which we are afflicted.

Even though we do eventually adopt the plan proposed by the special commission appointed by the six New England Governors, which is, that all New England railroads be united into one system, it might only be a step in the right direction.

We have no means of controlling the steel and iron and the other essential building materials. Their prices are fixed without any reference to our needs or wishes and their ultimate cost and delivery to us depend upon the transportation companies.

The great demand for raw materials during the war was the cause of the shortage in building material from which the country has suffered since the war.

We are gradually settling back to the pre-war levels of prices for raw materials, including those needed in the construction of buildings, but there is small indication of a decrease in rents.

Therefore, the obvious thing to do is to speculate in home-owning. Be your own landlord. Pay rent to yourself and then you will be doing business with a permanent landlord.

If you will consult the co-operative banks and the savings banks you will find them more than willing to help you to make a start toward building your own home.

About all that will be required is the security of a good name, and proof that you are honest, industrious and anxious to practice thrift.

WE DO NEED the help of outside agencies to solve these problems of coal, transportation and shelter, but WE DO NOT NEED help to solve our food problems.

Fifty years ago there were 11,000,000 acres of land under cultivation in New England.

Today only 6,000,000 acres are being worked. There are about 4,000,000 more that never have been cultivated, but which should be and could be, without much cost or trouble, with the right spirit and effort.

These acres are naturally fertile. Added to what

New England pays more for her plain food, as the tables above show, than any other section of the country. Properly encouraged, New England farmers could save the New England people from the high cost of living.

Study the tables above. They give proof that our weight in the high-cost-of-living scale is too heavy. Boston is the barometer of New England conditions. Why we have, they would give New England all the area she needs for crops for the New England people and all the grazing land necessary for livestock for the New England market.

A score of years ago the production of sheep in this section had dropped from 80,000, the figure in 1874, to 30,000. Last year it was 15,000.

In Massachusetts there were last year 20,000 less cows raised than twenty years ago.

Today New England is obtaining the bulk of its food products from other sections of the country.

Prices paid for them amaze visitors.

Boston pays eight cents more for round steak than New York, nineteen cents more than Chicago, and twenty cents more than Detroit.

For lamb we pay four cents more than New York, three cents more than Chicago, and two cents more than Detroit.

Ham costs three cents a pound more in New England than in New York, nine cents more than in Chicago, and three cents more than in Detroit.

The solution is obvious.

The farmers could deliver us if encouraged and instructed in modern marketing methods.

Every single factor in the life of New England is affected by the high cost of living.

should it cost so much more to live here than in the cities of comparative size?

One table shows the cause—that we are charged too much for food, the principal item of our family budget. The effect is shown in the wretchedly low average of Boston home-owning. We ought to be ashamed of this showing. We must build for a higher rank.

It is not only a question of feeding the thousands of citizens.

There is a connection between the costs of food and the costs of manufacturing.

The cost of living is the largest single item in the cost of production.

Our workers pay more for their food than those in other sections of the country and skilled workers depend very largely on the efforts of the farmers.

Proper food supplies, provided at a reasonable cost, will contribute more to the stability of New England's industries than anything else.

Massachusetts' population has increased more than a million in the last twenty years.

Transportation troubles have discouraged our farmers. They have abandoned the home market.

We are forced to go far afield for beef and pork products.

Even with high transportation rates, Western packers have found cheaper and more convenient means of reaching our markets than the New England farmer has.

Some means of distribution must be found to encourage a revival of the New England livestock industry.

A co-operative system on a small scale, with plants located at railroad points near the large cities, would help tremendously.

High Prices and High Rents Holding Back New England Industries

Recently the Massachusetts Commission on the Necessaries of Life made a survey on this question.

They received replies from hundreds of farmers, health boards and business organizations.

The majority favored a system of co-operative establishments.

The consensus of opinion was that such a system would provide better meats, bring down prices and stimulate the livestock industry.

It is useless to blame high prices on the World War, and calmly wait for deflation.

The war has been over five years and the cost of living in New England is 61 per cent. above the pre-war level.

If the Civil War is a criterion, inflation will not subside until 1932 or 1933.

It is time to act NOW.

The land is here, the resources are here, the people are here.

The only thing needed is initiative.

The tide of immigration is Westward.

Western farmers are having their troubles.

Land in the West is increasing steadily in value.

Available farm areas are decreasing, population is congesting, city limits are expanding.

High transportation rates and service charges are goading the wheat, corn and livestock raisers.

The trend of prices is inevitably upward.

All these things tend to favor a New England back-to-the-farm movement.

The market is at hand, the best paying in the country.

New England is possessed of good roads.

The automobile truck furnishes a cheap mode of transportation.

Conditions could not be more favorable.

And the time is RIGHT NOW.

Hand in hand with this appeal for the rehabilitation of the New England farm industry to the old plane, when it fed New England people, must go forward a campaign to emphasize this slogan:

OWN YOUR OWN HOMES.

The salvation of New England depends upon an awakening of the people.

There are too many young couples paying out the larger part of their incomes for rent.

The census returns demonstrate that our percentage of tenantry is too high.

If we are to have a happy, contented and stable population, we must increase the number of those who own their own homes.

In so doing we will also strike a shrewd blow at the high cost of living.

We have been losing sight of basic commodity values.

In many cases the cost of distribution and service is much more than the cost of essential production.

There is an orgy of extravagance that calls for the preaching of a new religion of living.

"Wilful waste makes woeful want," is just as true now as ever.

Every man, woman and child in the community should realize this fact, for a war even against the high cost of living can be won only by the combined efforts of a whole army.

The 1924 army of New England's Minute Men can win the high cost of living war—they can do it by encouraging the farmer and the home owner.
